President Geoff Lambert will take over the editor's duties with the December issue. Please send him articles, etc. There has been little journal material submitted lately — this makes the editor's job harder than usual! Hopefully would-be authors will have time now that summer is over.

Thanks again to all who worked for/with me; an special thank you to Pat Allan and Barrie Atkinson for all the e-mailed info, and to Lori Walker, who always submitted Periodical Potpourri on, or before, the deadline.

CALENDAR of ANNANDALE EMIGRATION

Prospects for Emigrants for Canada — 17th May, 1872 — In consequence of the extraordinary state of prosperity in the Dominion of Canada and the vast public works in course of construction to which all will soon be added the enlargement and improvement of the canals and the construction of the Pacific Railway to connect British Columbia with the other Provinces on the Atlantic seaboard, the government has instructed Mr William Dixon, of Adelphi Street, London, to make advances by warrant to suitable emigrants at the rate of 10 dollars for each adult. This liberal donation will bring the price of the passages for emigrants by the Royal Mail and other first class steamships of the Allan Line plying to the Dominion down to the very low rate of £4.5: — for adult, £2.2.6 for children, and 14/2 for infants. The Dominion Government is also offering to settlers, free grants of 160 acres of prairie land in the new Province of Manitoba.

HUMOUR

In the front yard of a Funeral Home:
"Drive carefully, we'll wait."

Where is the husband? continued from column at right and Hester Hadskis to John Hall, 42 years, son of William Hall and Betsy Deakin, born Staffordshire, England, and resident of Stonewall.

One wonders about the rest of the story of the missing school teacher. Edwin was much older than his wife, Laura. Had he been married before his marriage in Stonewall? Was the woman seen with him in England a previous wife or was she someone new in his life? Edwin appears to have died between 1894 when he left Canada and 1904 when his Canadian wife remarried, listing herself as a widow. What did he die from — natural causes, or at the hand of some wronged woman?

WHERE IS THE HUSBAND?

Kathy Stokes, MGS #125

From the Manitoba Free Press, 8 July 1894:

A Missing School Teacher Reported to be Living in England With Wife #2

"During last winter, a Free Press reporter, in his ramblings, came across an interesting piece of information affording at the time little sensation in wider circles than those intimately concerned.

"One cold winter day a message was received in the city stating that Mr. Sewell, a school teacher engaged in the Indian school near Lake Manitoba was nowhere to be found. He left his home to come down in this direction and was traced to Portage la Prairie and Rosser stations. When up the line, he was known to have engaged a team, and with this he drove to Portage la Prairie and was lost account of when at that point. From further information it appears that he attempted to drive from Rosser to his home, and the theory which was given general credence at the time, was that he must have perished in one of the blinding snow storms which were raging then.

"Sewell is married to a daughter of a Stonewall man, and it has leaked out that he had so far gained the confidence of his father-in-law that he was advanced some considerable amount of money. When Sewell was missing for so long, Mr. Lusted (the father-in-law) thought it not inadvisable to attempt to secure from the government the remnant of his son-in-law's salary, which remains unpaid and negotiations to this end are pending.

"So far, for one side of the story and this might have been believed had not further particulars come to hand. The Rev. Mr. Wood, formerly Anglican clergyman at Stonewall is now in England, and, unfortunately for the doubtless pre-arranged plans of Sewell, whilst there he saw the missing school teacher, and strange to say, he was not living alone. Sewell does not appear to have been content with one wife, but has, on the other side of the Atlantic, a lady who is occupying that position. The Rev. Mr. Wood found Sewell quite contented with Mrs. Sewell #2 and in apparent forgetfulness of loved ones in Canada."

Author's note: From Anglican marriage records of Stonewall Church of the Ascension are the following entries:

- 21 July 1891, the marriage of Laura May Usted, 25 years, a daughter of Thomas and Hester Lusted, born in Detroit, Michigan, and resident of Stonewall, to Edwin Sewell, 38 years, son of Robert and Sarah Sewell, born Down, England, and resident of Middlechurch.

- 27 January 1904, the marriage of Laura May Sewell, nee Lusted, 37 years, widow, daughter of Thomas Lusted continued in column at left

William Smellie, Surgeon At York Factory

Colin, and Elizabeth Briggs, MGS #484L

Early inhabitants of the region we now call Manitoba had access to relatively current European style medical treatment one hundred and fifty years ago. The Hudson's Bay Company Archives holds medical journals for York Factory for a six-year period during the mid-nineteenth century. Company policy had ensured a resident surgeon was employed at York Factory. There was insufficient work to warrant full time employment so the surgeon also acted as clerk and as an officer of the Company. He received remuneration of £100 pounds per year.

The surgeon and clerk from 1845-1849 was William Smellie who was born in St. Andrew's Parish in the Orkneys on 12 November 1821. His family was listed by name and age in the 1821 census return taken June 6, beginning with his father James Smellie and his mother Margaret, followed by twelve children. The Reverend James Smellie was born in 1774, in Lanarkshire, Scotland. Margaret Smellie née Spence, was the daughter of David Spence and Lucy Traill. They married 5 November 1805. William's mother would give birth to eighteen children between 1806 and 1828. Many infants survived birth, neither mother nor child survived the last confinement. Shortly after the death of his first wife Margaret, on 3 May 1831 James Smellie married his second wife Helen Spence.

Young William received his early education from his father, The Reverend James Smellie. Later he enrolled in Edinburgh University for his medical training. At this time Edinburgh was highly regarded as a leading European centre for training physicians and surgeons. William had the advantage of studying medicine under the supervision of his respected uncle, Thomas Stewart Traill. He followed a rigorous academic and professional program including: anatomy, clinical medicine, surgery, midwifery, medical jurisprudence, botany, zoology, materia medica, compounding pharmaceutical preparations. Prior to graduating in 1842, William Smellie wrote his thesis On the Vascular System and the Circulation of the Sap in Vegetables. After graduating from Edinburgh he returned to the Orkneys for the first two years of his medical practice.

In the spring of 1845 William Smellie applied to work for the Hudson's Bay Company. He provided testimonials supporting his excellent character and professional ability and was soon encouraged to sign a five-year contract with the Company. Within a few weeks he sailed for York Factory where he arrived in August of the same year.

Shortly after settling into every day life at York Factory, Dr. Smellie fell ill with Quinsay (sic), a throat infection, and he was incapacitated for over a week. This was duly reported in the Post Journals but not the Medical Journals. The doctor did not report his own illness nor his self medication, neither did he report on his treatment of the Chief Factor, James Hargrave, and his family, although he was known to have provided them with care.

William Smellie kept detailed medical histories for over two hundred patients he attended in and around the Fort. Some patients had chronic problems and visited the doctor seventy-five times in three years, others had acute illnesses and saw the physician only once. During the visit, Dr. Smellie took a brief patient history, noted clinical symptoms, and wrote up a prescription. Medications were often based on natural products and contained some herbal remedies, sometimes with the addition of metallic compounds such as mercury or antimony salts. These remedies were characteristic of the period. Prescriptions were modified to each patient's needs and often contained drastic purgatives and emetics with the intent of cleansing the body. The distress caused by the illness and treatment was sometimes relieved by opium products, which also counter the tendency to diarrhea produced by purgatives such as croton oil, jalap and castor oil. An example of this approach is the prescription for James Scott in 1847.

A.M. Nov 1 1847 James Scott

Affected with severe colicky pains which kept him awake all night: pulse soft & moderate, tongue clean, bowels slightly relaxed.

Some of William Smellie's patients travelled in boats hundreds of miles to York Factory. They carried furs to be sent to London on the sailing in the early fall. These men journeyed from as far as modern day British Columbia to reach York Factory in the summer months.

When they arrived at York people would visit the surgeon for treatment of their own ailments which may be long standing. Alternatively, they would describe illnesses experienced by friends or family members at the home post. Sometimes it is a mystery how individuals survived the therapy.

30 June 1847 Josè Courchene (Lac La Pluie)

Commissioned one of his friends to get some medicine for the gravel for him: as far as can be ascertained the principal symptoms are in the pubic region, with difficulty of passing urine coming on by fits.

Dr. Smellie's detailed descriptions from the Medical Journals offer genealogists insight into contemporary medical practise and a wealth of information for those whose ancestors visited the surgeon at the Factory.

25 June 1847 Corporal Craig (6th foot)

Complains of piles which troubled him in the voyage f[ro]m R[ed] R[iver]: says that he had much relief from the medicine prescribed in August last [see page 1 of original journal]: they did not trouble him again till this summer after he commenced his journey from R[ed] R[iver].

Dr. Smellie's patients suffered from medical problems similar to those experienced in modern times, heart disease, rheumatism, colds and influenza. Some conditions which are no longer life threatening to a patient were common in the mid-nineteenth century e.g. bacterial fevers which would be treated today with antibiotics. Gastrointestinal problems and scurvy were frequent occurrences. Dr. Smellie wrote on 28 August 1849:

Last season, however, there was a deficiency of fresh provisions & a total want of cranberries at this place; but these privations, in my opinion, could scarcely have influenced the disease [scurvy] to any extent, as the difference between fresh & salt provisions as a prophylactic against scurvy, appears to me to be of little moment where an ordinary antiscorbutic such as Lime juice can be obtained;

Digestive disturbances were common in summer time when the weather was warm, and food was not stored carefully. Bacteria multiplied resulting in sickness and distress. Sterilization and a knowledge of micro-organisms solved these problems before the end of the century, but widespread use of refrigerated food had to wait another hundred years.

William Smellie kept meticulous medical journals. These were superior to those of Dr. Wills, who replaced him at York Factory in 1849. Dr. Smellie has neat, clear well formed handwriting, he documented his patient histories and included prescriptions which he compounded. For example on 1 January 1847 James Grieve, a labourer was examined.

1st January 1847 James Grieve (Labourer)

Complains of pain about the middle of the inner aspect of the tibia: says that it was hurt two days ago by a fall on a dog-sledge: no appearance of ecchymosis, nor the slightest discoloration. Can support his weight on the affected limb but halts a little in walking.
Habeat Liniment Sap. Comp. 3i. Have 1 ounce of Compound of Soap Liniment.

4 Jan. Pain relieved.

William Smellie was not admired or highly respected by the Chief Factor, James Hargrave or his wife Letitia. He was probably the doctor in attendance at the birth of Letitia Hargrave's daughter Mary Jane although he was not identified by name in Letitia's letter, merely being referred to as "the doctor." James Hargrave comments on his own health and refers to Dr. Smellie in his correspondence with Sir George Simpson. The Post Journals contain reports of employees who were absent from duties due to illness and dates of return to active duties. These entries confirm the visits cited in the medical journals.

William Smellie did not adjust to the harsh life experienced by the inhabitants at York Factory. He was a well-educated gentleman who enjoyed writing poetry and playing the violin. Hunting and living in the open did not appeal to him, neither did the womanizing and drinking of the people at York Factory. Influential explorers such as Dr. John Rae did not admire William Smellie and he was not considered highly by the officers of the Company.

Senior officers of the Company, like James Hargrave believed William Smellie to have limited talents as a clerk and physician and this led to his contract being terminated in 1849 and to his being replaced by Dr. Wills. William Smellie completed almost four and a half years of his five year contract for he acted as surgeon to the passengers and crew of the Prince Rupert on the homeward voyage to London in the fall of 1849. Following his return to England, William Smellie entered into correspondence with the Secretary of the Hudson's Bay Company in London and Sir George Simpson challenging his early dismissal from his five-year contract. Modern examination of his records suggests that he was a competent physician for his era. His performance following his return to Scotland supports this interpretation.

The Prince Rupert docked in London by early November 1849 and within a few weeks Dr. Smellie travelled north to Wick, Caithness, Scotland where he joined a new medical team. In February, he married an old acquaintance Anne Bain Miller and he was soon to be the proud father of a young family. Diseases such as cholera and typhus fever were major challenges to the medical profession in the nineteenth century. After a short illness, in his thirty-ninth year, William Smellie, who had never been strong and robust, died on 13 December 1858. His death certificate identifies fever as the cause of death. Cholera was believed to be present in Wick in December 1858 and the next entry for death after William Smellie indicates the person died of typhus. Both diseases include fever as a symptom. Sadly, William left a grieving widow and four young children under the age of eight years.

We recently transcribed the York Factory Medical Journals 1846-1849. Following completion of the manuscript for publication, we checked the telephone directory in Winnipeg for the name Smellie — wondering if there was a remote chance we might contact a distant relative of the Smellie family. We met descendants of William Smellie's elder brother George Smellie (b1811). George was a Presbyterian minister who emigrated to Fergus, Ontario in 1843. He married Margaret Lendrum Logie and fathered ten children. Two sons, George and Albert Gale Parker Smellie settled in the Russell area of Manitoba and established a general business. Grandchildren of Albert Gale Parker Smellie reside in Winnipeg.

Descendants of George Smellie and William Smellie generously shared their research with us including the correction of information from printed sources we had received from Scottish Archives. We contacted a direct descendant of William Smellie who now lives in British Columbia. He has spent several decades tracing his genealogy. Many of William Smellie's descendants are alive today and have travelled to new continents including North America, but the family appears to have left their roots in Wick in the north of Scotland. This is partly due to William Smellie's widow Anne Bain Miller Smellie remarrying and moving south to Glasgow with her new husband, Daniel Smith and young family.

We would like to extend our thanks to the staff of the Hudson's Bay Company Archives and the Provincial Archives of Manitoba for their assistance with this research. In particular we are grateful to Judith Hudson Beattie, Keeper of the HBC Archives for permission to include original documents and Anne Morton, for her interpretation and assistance with various references.

More extensive information on European and North American medical treatment for over two hundred patients in the mid-nineteenth century and William Smellie has been published in York Factory Medical Journals, 1846-1849. This book is available from the publisher Westgarth, 46 Burnhill Bay, Winnipeg, Manitoba R3T 5N3, telephone 269-7869 at $29.95 plus $6.00 postage and packaging in Manitoba, $7.50 outside the province.

Letter From Sir George Simpson to William Smellie, M.D. 20 December 1850

William Smellie Esq. M.D. / West, Quebec 20 December 1850.

I have to acknowledge your letter of 12 October, in which, to quote your own words, "you ask the reason why you were discharged from the service of the Hudson Bay Company, and a statement of the degree of satisfaction your conduct gave." I reply, I have to say that I presented your discharge from the Hudson Bay Company's services since out of request which, in consequence of information that reached me, I considered it my duty to make to the Governor & Committee, to the effect that they cause you to be relieved at York Factory by a person more efficient in his profession, & better qualified to render himself useful in the capacity of a Clerk in Law & to be paid £1000.00

M. S. Whitelocke 20 December 1930.

I have to acknowledge your letter of 12
December which I quote from your words, "you ask why you were striking at that time. We are not the British Army Company, and as I only speak of the British Army Company you consider yourself safe at this junction. You that presume your discharge date will not be before 1st January 1931. I am afraid that the British Army Company's business will not be conveniences of information that cannot be obtained in India, in consequence of which I have decided to remain in India until my duty to you is done. I hope that they will not consider that I am not capable of being retained at Port Elizabeth if it is necessary to do so. I have nothing more to say than what I have written, and I hope you will accept my apologies for any trouble caused by my action.

Yours ever truly

HAMILTON HERITAGE: a work in progress

Mary Bole, MGS 844

As I was researching our Hamilton family I was amazed to find how many descendants of John and Ann Hamilton have settled in Manitoba. I have attempted to list known descendants in the following article. The list is from secondary sources: family history books and relatives, so it may be incomplete or incorrect. Please use with caution.

John Hamilton (1762-1844) and his wife Ann (1782-1855) and family immigrated to Sydenham Township, Grey County from Ireland during 1836-1844. Their youngest son, Thomas, was born in Mayo County in Ireland, so presumably the entire family was from that area. They were Wesleyan Methodist.

The children who settled in Sydenham were:

1. John (1808-1881);
2. Rebecca (1816-1892);
3. Henry (1820-1880);
4. Thomas (1827-1871);
and maybe Agnes (1819-1859).

1. John Hamilton

John (1808-1881) married Catherine in Ireland and had the following children in Ireland and Ontario.

- a) Margaret - nothing further known.
- b) Elizabeth (1835-?) married Charles McNabb. Nothing further known.
- c) Henry (1837-1894) married Mary Day, (1840-1901). After Henry's death in 1894, Mary and most of their 14 children moved to the Stockton/Glenboro area of Manitoba. Manitoba descendants' names include: Hamilton, Crake, Versey, Bradshaw, Larcombe, Hince, Neiley, Linstedt, Fox, Dougall, Garvin, Kennedy, Buttles, Darragh, Holland, and Gilmour; also Hamilton in Lintlaw, SK.
- d) Ann (1839-1915) married Thomas Wark and migrated to the High Bluff, Poplar Point area of Manitoba in 1872. Names of descendants include: Wark, Sherritt, Scrase, Little, Folster, Owen, Hamilton, Bellamy, Lake, and Grant.
- e) Mary (1844-1850).
- f) George (1848-1851).
- g) John (1849-?) married Margaret Ellen Dudgeon, (1854-?). John arrived in Manitoba sometime after the death of his father in 1881. John, his wife Margaret, 6 children, and aging mother, Catherine, migrated to Cypress River / Glenboro area of Manitoba. Catherine died in Cypress River. Descendants include: Christie. (Also Hamilton in Cyrmic, Nipawin, Melfort, and Lanigan, SK.)
- h) Catherine (1851-1856).

2. Rebecca Hamilton

Rebecca (1816-1892) married John Meabry, (1819-1910) in Grey County, Ontario in 1845 and had the following children:

- a) Jane Meabry (1845-?) married (Richard) James Russell and migrated to the Dunrea / Glenboro area of Manitoba in 1882. Descendants include: Russell, Campbell, Meabry. (Note: apparently James Russell's brother was the mayor of London, England.)

METRIC CONVERSIONS

from Perth County Profiles, Vol 18 #2

Do you have trouble with metric conversions?
From Australia, here is a tongue-in-cheek attempt to clarify some of them.

1 million microphones = 1 megaphone
10 cards = 1 decacards
453.6 graham crackers = 1 pound cake
10 rations = 1 decoration
10 millipedes = 1 centipede
2 monograms = 1 diagram
2 wharves = 1 paradox
2000 mockingbirds = 2 kilomockingbirds
1 millionth of a fish = 1 microfiche
1 trillion pins = 1 terrapin
100 rations = 1 C-ration
3 1/3 tridents = 1 decadent
8 nickels = 2 paradigms

ARE THESE YOUR ANCESTORS?

Kathy Stokes, MGS #125

Scrip claims have been and continue to be subjects of interest and controversy for family historians. The following list, which appeared in the Winnipeg Free Press April 4, 1894, page 3, may provide some clues to those with native ancestry.

"The following is a list of claims to share in the half-breed grant of scrip preferred by persons who were living on July 15, 1870, in territory or the district of Keewatin, not yet ceded to the Indians under treaty, particulars of which were before given in an Ottawa dispatch to the Free Press. The figures after each name give the amount and is followed by the residence of the claimant on July 15, 1870:

Brown, Mary, wife of John Smith, 160, Oxford House, Keewatin.
Carves, Theresa, wife of Jat. Pruden Jr., 240, Lesser Slave Lake.
Chidley, Mary, wife of Charles Stevenson, 240, Oxford House, Keewatin.
Collands, Daniel, deceased, heirs of 160, Oxford House, Keewatin.
Collands, Elizabeth, wife of William Woods, 240, Oxford House, Keewatin.
Collands, Frederick, deceased, heirs of 240, Oxford House, Keewatin.
Crowhead, Belle, wife of Joseph Morris, 240, Churchill, Hudson Bay.
Dunlop, Fanny, wife of Albert Thomas, 240, Fort Simpson.

ELMWOOD CEMETERY TRANSCRIBING

Kathy Stokes, MGS #125

The Elmwood Cemetery transcription project is proceeding this summer, despite the rainy conditions in June and early July which cancelled the transcribing party for Winnipeg branch. The rains led to atrocious conditions and the mosquitoes were the worst since the mid-1990s. Nonetheless, several hardy volunteers have ventured into the cemetery. As well, thanks to the generosity of some MGS members and friends, we have been able to hire an experienced transcriber who has persevered in spite of the whining and biting of the pesky little critters. We are now about 80% finished with the transcribing of stones.

Much more work needs to be done, however. We have been allowed access to the registers in the cemetery office which means that we can identify burials where no stones mark the graves. This takes many hours and must be done before the data is entered on the computer, another lengthy task. The Friends of Elmwood Cemetery, the group which now owns and operates the cemetery, has been most cooperative and has given us a generous donation to help defray the costs of transcribing and data entry.

The completed project will see recording of more than 50,000 burials, with an alphabetical index provided, something which is now lacking at the cemetery office.

Elmwood Cemetery is the second largest cemetery in Winnipeg. It is the resting place of some well-known Winnipeggers, as well as many more who are less known, the ordinary people of our city. We would like to complete the entire project — the reading of the stones, the checking of the registers, and the computerization of our work — by the summer of 2001, in order to meet our target date with the Winnipeg Millennium Council, and as an impressive way to celebrate the 25th anniversary of MGS.

If you have not sent a donation yet, please consider helping us to achieve our goal with an amount, large or small. Every little bit helps. Your name will appear on a special thank you page in Generations upon completion of this project.

MANITOBA GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY INC — MILLENNIUM PROJECT

E — 1045 St. James Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba R3H 1B1 204 / 783-9139

The Manitoba Genealogical Society Inc. is undertaking a Millennium Project — to complete the inventory of the fifty thousand (50,000) headstones in Winnipeg's Elmwood Cemetery on Henderson Highway, in partnership with our Winnipeg Branch and sanctioned by the Millennium Council of Winnipeg.

MGS is hoping to present the cemetery officials with a complete alphabetical inventory to replace their chronological system of having to pour over aging journals, in time to coincide with the twenty-fifth anniversary (1976 — 2001) of our Society in the summer of 2001. As well the completed records would be available at the Resource Centre for our members and patrons working on their heritage research.

The estimated time to complete the headstone data, arrived at by the volunteers from their field trips over the past two decades, is one thousand (1,000) hours. It is our plan to hire two summer students to do the field work and our volunteer staff will complete the transcribing at the Resource Centre and at their homes. We are looking to raise a total of $6,000 to cover the cost of the field labour. Will you assist us?

Banners have been put up at the Portage and Main, Winnipeg Square / Lombard, tunnels indicating that this is the future site of the Wall of Fame for donators.

For more information, see the City's web site: <http://www.winnipeg-millennium.mb.ca>

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Geoffrey Lambert, MGS #3591

Despite the temptations of summer, MGS has continued to thrive these last three months since the June edition of Generations.

Firstly, the library stayed open 3 days/week, and 1 evening. Many thanks, again, to the volunteers who enable us to continue to offer high-quality service to our public.

Secondly, we had a highly successful garage sale in June. Although we had to spread it over two Saturdays (the first one being marred by a torrential downpour), we raised between $400 and $500 for MGS. Thanks to Jim and Shirley Rutherford for making their home available to us. Thanks also to Jayne Paradis for her help in so many ways (and to her husband, Wayne, whose skills as a burger chef were there for all to see).

Thirdly, under Kathy Stokes' leadership, the Elmwood Cemetery Project has moved forward, and fundraising efforts have been successful enough to enable the hiring of a couple of researchers. One cannot overstate the importance of this laborious activity. If MGS didn't do the work, it wouldn't get done.

Notices appear elsewhere regarding the AGM and the visit by Lady Teviot in October. Next year is MGS' 25th anniversary and an ad hoc committee headed by Jayne Paradis is working on plans. (Jayne is, believe it or not, a charter member of MGS.) I'm sure she would welcome any suggestions as to what we should do to mark the event.

I was recently perusing a book by Peter Bowler with the tongue-in-cheek title The Superior Person's Book of Words (Godine, NY, 1991), which sets about defining obscure words, such as nepheligenous and slubber-degullion. Members of MGS will be surprised to learn that Mr. Bowler regards genealogy as one such obscure word, but they may be amused by what he has to say, namely:

"GENEALOGY: The tracing of descent from ancestors; alternatively, a particular account of such a tracing for a specific family or individual. In the English-speaking world, all those who take up this pursuit announce sooner or later that they can trace their descent back to Edward III. That should surprise no one with a rudimentary knowledge of mathematics; there are probably one or two well-bred basset hounds which could also trace their descent back to Edward III. What is really surprising is that Edward III seems to be regarded as some kind of ultimate antecedent beyond whom the genealogist does not venture, even though anyone descended from Edward III is also descended from his father, Edward II, and so on. The author can only guess that the prudery of the late Victorian age (when genealogy became a family pastime) chose to draw a veil before the memory of Edward II in view of the sybaritic Plantagenet's bisexual reputation and appalling death."

SWAN VALLEY BRANCH

Donna Fox, Secretary, MGS #1738

Regular meetings: Second Monday of the month (except July and August), 7:30pm, basement of Town Office Building, Swan River, Manitoba.

Our indexing for births, marriages, and deaths from the Star & Times is continuing this year and our 1999 edition is being bound and hopefully will be submitted shortly. We also continue to answer quite a few queries regarding our area.

We were very fortunate this year in actually meeting a writer of a query that we answered in 1994. At our June meeting we had the pleasure of having Douglas Gray, MGS #3234 in attendance. Doug is from Ottawa, Ontario, and he is researching names: GRAY, REID, DYKEMAN, and CAVERS. His family of interest settled in the Durban and Benito area. They were early pioneers of our area and he was able to gain a wealth of information. He gave us a wonderful presentation of his progress and travels.

We took a summer break; our office was closed for July and August.

How to Calculate a Birthdate

Remember this number – 8870. This is not an error. It is the number to remember if you want to find the birthday of someone when you only have the date of death and age (in years, months, days).

How do you figure the birthdate? Suppose the person died May 6, 1889 at the age of 71 years, 7 months, 9 days.

1. Write the year, month, day

as 18890506

2. Subtract the age at death
18179797

4. Now subtract
8870

5. The result is 18170927

Year 1817, 9th month (Sept.), 27th day, or 27 Sept. 1817.
From Lanark Co. Genealogical Soc. Newsletter, April 2000.

Military Images is set up to offer on-line pages to display (military personnel, etc.) photographs in the hope that other site visitors can help with identification and general research assistance. As of May 31, 2000, the site held photo/scans of some 2, 819 UNIDENTIFIED INDIVIDUALS, plus many more that only the barest facts are known. There is also, a list of 812 transcribed names from War Memorials etc. Bear in mind, that in WWI in particular, where a soldier was living at the time of his volunteering or conscription often had no bearing on which Regiment or unit, etc., he was posted to.

Millennium Tribute to Anglo-American Heritage

Memorial to England's 400 year links with America is being constructed in Hingham, Norwich, England. 57 acres (Woodland Park) will be a testament to the long-standing allegiance between the two countries. Many families emigrated from here to the Boston area and the US airforce used the English area during WWII. There are records of 36 different family names of people who emigrated in the 17c — ship names and time taken. 36 sqft. plats are being sold to individuals and groups.
